This report outlines HouseScout's financial status, cash flow, and funding plan. We rely on three revenue sources for stability and base our projections on conservative real-world data. We expect to raise £887.2K over three years, resulting in a net profit of £505.34K by the third year.

Funding Strategy Overview

Our core strategy is to maintain positive cash balance at all times by retaining a minimum three-month operating cost reserve at each phase transition. The majority of raised capital is directed toward the three dominant early-stage cost drivers: employees, R&D, and sales & marketing.

Phase & Timing	Total Capital	Sources	Funds impact to our ability to deliver & scale
Phase 1 Pre-Launch & MVP Jul-Dec 2026	£19,800	FFF Equity — £9,000 6 founders × £1,500 from personal networks Start-Up Loan — £10,800 6 founders × £1,800 @ 6% fixed, 3-5yr [1] startuploans.co.uk	- Founders' salaries (minimal) - MVP platform development - Manual Scout onboarding & ops - Demand & delivery validation 3-month emergency cash reserve
Phase 2 Seed-Stage & Market Entry Jan - Jun 2027	£85,400	Pre-Seed Angel — £75,000 Facilitated via Angel Investment Network UK [2] angelinvestmentnetwork.co.uk Prizes & Grants — £10,400 Imperial VCC £10,000 + 2 hackathon prizes £400 [3] imperialenterpriselab.com/programmes/vcc	- Founders' salaries (minimal) - Promotion & Advertisement for exposure - Refine and iterate platform features and functions
Phase 3 Feature Enhancements & Full Version Launch July 2027-July 2028	£400,000	Seed Round Angel — £400,000 Lead: NAR Reach UK [4] nar-reach.com/uk Co-invest: NoA VC · Geovation Accelerator [5] noavc.com [6] geovation.uk	- Database & platform build - Scout network expansion to 15+ - Product, ops & marketing hires - Paid user acquisition (CAC testing) - B2B API infrastructure
Phase 4 Growth & Scale July 2028-Jun 2029	£500,000	Series A VC — £500,000 Lead investor: PI Labs (PropTech VC) [7] pilabs.vc Raised at Month 26 (first profitability) as proof of validated unit economics	- Future multi-city geographic expansion - Aggressive paid acquisition scale-up - Senior team compensation uplift - B2B data licensing partnerships - FFF loan repayment initiated

HouseScout P&L Brief Summary

Sankey-style summary · Year 3

HouseScout turns profitable in Year 3, generating £2.79M revenue (+337% Y/Y) driven overwhelmingly by B2C Scout inspections. A 40.0% gross margin and disciplined operating cost control convert into £472K EBITDA and £380K net profit – reversing two years of losses and validating the unit economics underlying the Series A raise.

Team Reflection

Over the past 2 terms, HouseScout team has worked closely together to refine our idea, bring it to life and operate it like a real startup. Plenty of difficult decisions were made, plenty of team work, and plenty of industry outreach. Our roles are assigned automatically according to our skills and interests. We are proud of our work :)

Rafi -- CEO

This module provided invaluable insights into teamwork and startup creation. Our team excelled at delegating tasks to leverage everyone's unique strengths. Personally, I found great fulfillment in filming and editing our video content, while also learning effective user traction strategies like managing our Instagram presence.

Greg -- CTO

From exploring problems to attending my first Scout viewing, navigating our pivots as a team was highly rewarding. Taking ownership, I established crucial agency connections and developed intuitive viewing checklists for our team's use. Ultimately, this hands-on responsibility significantly improved my lean team management skills.

Hal -- CFO

Collaborating to generate creative ideas for HouseScout was incredibly enjoyable. As CFO, engaging with mentors and startup veterans challenged me to produce results I am deeply proud of. Moving forward, I will continuously apply these new financial skills and maintain this invaluable startup founder mindset.

Arancha -- CIO

Watching HouseScout evolve into a funding-ready startup has been tremendously rewarding. Our shared dedication greatly refined our communication and organization. Personally, I significantly elevated my UI design skills, and I am exceptionally proud of the unbiased, genuinely helpful service that our team built together.

Tamara -- CMO

This first startup experience taught me invaluable lessons in marketing metrics, SEO, and analytics, which I will apply to my family business. I loved collaborating with our team to build something with real future potential. I also found assumption testing, the mission to prove yourself wrong, fascinating and highly rewarding.

Jennifer -- COO

I learned immensely from this module and loved collaborating with everyone. I am particularly proud of leading our website's production. Mastering Framer has given me lasting confidence in my web design abilities. Throughout the project, our team perfectly balanced responsibilities and maintained excellent communication
